MONITORING EUROPEAN FAMILY BUSINESS

24 January – 7 February 2025

European Family Businesses Newsletter # 29

With the beginning of the new year, it is time to reflect on our work during the last six months of 2024.

Recent events and meetings

EFB Welcome Reception

Aimed at spreading awareness of EFB and its work to newly elected and returning MEPs as they settled into the beginning of their mandates, we held a Welcome Reception at the Representation of Baden-Württemberg to the EU in Brussels on the 10th of September. The event brought together family business owners, policymakers from the EU Commission, in particular the representatives from DG GROW, newly elected and some re-elected MEPs along with some representatives of other business associations. We would like to thank the companies of Schwarz Group and the Representation of Baden-Württemberg to the EU in Brussels for facilitating our welcome reception. To read more about the event, please visit our website here.

10th Family Business Summit

Our 10th Family Business Summit took place in Rome between the 3rd and 5th of October. This event was the first of its kind as, it was the first time we attached an EFB summit to one of our chapter's national conferences. In conjunction with our Italian chapter AIDAF, we hosted a great event attracting approximately 500 people from around Europe. The topic was The Power of People. We had several sessions and talks with business owners from different family businesses and different generations, policymakers and academics to tackle the topic. Along with many opportunities to network and exchange ideas, we also had opportunities to visit Italian family businesses, thanks to AIDAF. Some of our summit's highlights included: EFB's President Mr Udo J. Vetter's opening speech on where family businesses fit in Europe, expressing the importance of family businesses that are all around us, the threats they are facing and the power of people when they come together. He then introduced EFB and its lobbying work in Brussels. Mr Vetter thanked the sponsors of the event For Talents and EY and our Italian chapter AIDAF along with Ms Giovanna Gregori, executive director of AIDAF and Cristina Bombassei, President of AIDAF for enabling us to host this event.

Ms Bombassei, AIDAF's President, spoke of the reports on European competitiveness and the single market reiterating that ownership matters.

From a discussion on the power of stewardship to a panel on how to balance the Green Deal with industrial competitiveness, the summit gave us an overarching view of how family businesses are operating in the Single Market and the challenges they face in the current complex geopolitical and economic context.

We were fortunate to secure, a keynote speech from Mr Enrico Letta, chair of Jacques Delors Institute, who was in charge of the report on the future of the Single Market. His main message was that we need to tackle the fragmentation within the single market to remain competitive. " At a national level, too many countries are thinking that they have gain keeping the situation as it is today, without considering that small gains for one country mean a big loss altogether. We pay the price of this big loss. What I wanted to do in this exercise was to send a red alarm. We are lagging. We are too complicated. We are too fragmented. We have to overcome all this disintegration and this fragmentation." We could not agree more!

Moreover, we also had the pleasure of having a speech by Ms Martina Dlabajová, Member of the European Parliament from 2014-2024. She outlined what Europe looked like following the conclusion of the European Parliamentary elections of June 2024. She also added the importance of SMEs to the European economy and how EFB worked with her during her time at the European Parliament. The combined efforts of EFB and Ms Dlabajová in 2023, enabled her to include business transfers in a key resolution. She highlighted the role of EFB in raising the topic of business transfers as an issue.

We thank AIDAF and our sponsors for facilitating this exceptional event. If you would like to find out more about our summit, please visit our website here where you can read the full summit summary.

Policy-related events and meetings

EFB attended several policy-related events in the last few months of 2024. Below, you will find a summary of the main meetings and events. It is also important to note that since the College of Commissioners was agreed upon on the 27th of November and officially began its work on the 1st of December, there was a halt in the legislative procedure of the EU Institutions. Nevertheless, several important events took place during this time to discuss what the priorities in the Commission's Work Plan for 2025 should be. Many stakeholders, including ourselves, also evaluated what they thought should be worked on as soon as possible in Commission President von Der Leyen's second mandate.

SME Assembly 2024

Between the 18th and 20th of November 2024 in Budapest, EFB representatives Mr Jesús Casado, EFB's Secretary General and Ms Joana Peixinho, EFB's Junior Policy Advisor, attended the SME Envoy Network meeting and the SME Assembly organised by the European Commission.

During the SME Envoy Network meeting, a point on SME policy in Hungary was presented. Here, Mr Casado intervened to ask about the measures planned for business transfers in the foreseeable future. His question raised a vital point: business transfers are critical to European competitiveness and job retention so, how will the topic be approached by the European Commission in the next mandate? How will member states tackle the issue? EFB will continue to call for discussions on business transfers as a priority.

As the assembly began, important recommendations arose on the topics of better regulation and reduction of administrative burden, the need for sustainability – both human and environmental, scaling up, access to finance, highlighting best practices, streamlining the legal framework of public procurement, simplifying the Corporate Sustainability Due Diligence Directive (CSDDD) and Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive (CSRD).

To read the full summary of the event visit our website here.

Other policy meetings

Between the 20th-22nd of October, EFB's Secretary General Mr Jesús Casado, attended the national IEF - Instituto de la Empresa Familiar summit in Spain, where he spoke to Former Prime Minister of Italy and author of the Much More than a Market report Mr Enrico Letta. Mr Letta suggested that EFB should encourage its national chapters to communicate with their respective national governments as this helps to implement the recommendations of the report, thus helping family businesses thrive in a less fragmented single market. On the 23rd of October, Mr Casado had a meeting with Mr Bonifacio García-Porrás, Head of Unit for Small and Medium Enterprises to discuss topics vital to the future of companies in Europe.

Ms Joana Peixinho attended three meetings put together by the European Commission's SME Envoy Network on 1st October, 11th December and 12th December. Here different policy topics were discussed such as: administrative burden, the SME test, public procurement and more.

During a meeting in November with Mr Ben Butters, CEO of EuroChambers, both Mr Butters and Mr Casado exchanged views on what the associations are working on. A discussion on how both EFB and EuroChambers can work together in the foreseeable future on topics of mutual interest was held.

Small Mid-Caps (SMCs)

In October, we published a paper on Small Mid-Caps (SMCs) following a request from the European Commission's DG GROW to help determine what we think the category should include. In our view, the SMC definition is part of the larger topic that we have been calling for over the last few years. Namely, a European category for mid-caps.

Background

The Commission included the topic of mid-caps in their 2023 SME Relief Package, which was a very substantial win for us. In Action 18, the Commission noted that they will, "be attentive to the needs of companies that outgrow the thresholds of the SME definition, as well as the broader range of small mid-cap companies...". The Commission also committed to developing a harmonised definition for SMCs and building a dataset based on the aforementioned definition. We are very happy with the positive steps in the development of a mid-cap definition.

While they are only looking at the small mid-caps for the moment, this gives us the momentum required to push for an entire mid-cap category.

You can read our position on SMCs on our website.

Change course now or face irreversible decline - the family business call for competitiveness.

In December, following the appointment of the new College of Commissioners and ahead of the release of the Commission's Work Programme, we released a paper that we sent to Commissioners, MEPs and key people in DG GROW calling for action on key issues impacting European competitiveness.

In our document, you will find five overarching pillars that have to be handled as soon as possible:

- Reduction of administrative burden and reporting.
- Re-thinking Europe's industrial strategy – strengthening Europe's industrial base, trade agreements, and job preservation.
- Increase investment in Research, Development, and Innovation.
- Closing the skills gap and preparing for the skills shift.
- The need for solid financing.
